

The Social Justice Lecture Series & the Human-Animal Studies Minor bring you three events for the birds

FOR THE BIRDS

FALL 2023

A SERIES OF EVENTS ABOUT BIRDS
AND CONSERVATION IN MINNESOTA

ALL EVENTS ARE FREE AND OPEN TO THE PUBLIC
QUESTIONS? Contact carol.glasser@mnsu.edu

RAPTORS ON CAMPUS

WED. NOV 1
2:30-3:30 PM
OSTRANDER AUDITORIUM

The University of Minnesota's Raptor Center will come visit with four raptors, including one bald eagle. The audience will learn about raptors in Minnesota and conservation issues that can impact their well-being

BIRDING FOR EVERYONE

WED. NOV 8
2:00-3:00 PM
CSU 201

May Vang from the MN DNR's Bird by Bird project will discuss the joy of bird watching and making birding more accessible. Lori Naumann will also highlight eagles in Minnesota and the DNR's Eagle Cam project. The audience will be inspired to notice the birds around them and will learn about the importance of environmental stewardship for the future of birds

INVASIVE PLANTS CLEAN-UP

SAT. NOV 11
12:00-2:00 PM
MINNEOPA STATE PARK

Join us for a group volunteer event at Minneopa State park to help clear invasive plants that threaten local birds. This event requires you to sign up at least 2 days in advance. To get more details and sign up follow this QR code

These events are brought to you by the Social Justice Lecture Series with the support of our co-sponsors

Department of Sociology

Department of Philosophy

Sociology Club

