SUMMER 2021 ONLINE

MINNESOTA STATE UNIVERSITY, MANKATO

Summer Session II (5 weeks) June 21-July 23

Combination of Online Content + Weekly Zoom Meeting on Wednesday nights
Class meetings will be discussion based and facilitate guest speaker visits

This course is designed for graduate students and working professionals in education, community engagement, counseling, and student support services. Together, we will deepen our understanding of Native American educational histories, experiences, and perspectives with the goal of increasing our capacity to individually and structurally support Indigenous students. To this end, participants will learn from Indigenous community leaders and culturally relevant resources as part of their experience in this course.

Minnesota State Mankato students can register through e-services. MinnState students and Non-degree seeking students/community members are also welcome.

Email Dr. Chelsea Mead (Chelsea.Mead@mnsu.edu) for more information on the course and how to register. Space is limited. Early registration is encouraged.

The course will involve guest speakers and other experiential opportunities. These opportunities are part of the GEER Grant collaboration between Minnesota State University, Mankato and Normandale Community College. Additional information on this collaboration can be found at Equitable Teaching in the Era of Covid on Facebook.
